

James Fadiman, Ph. D., Psychedelics as Entheogens: How to Create and Guide Successful Sessions.
Biography of Presenter:

James Fadiman, B.A. (Harvard), M.A., Ph.D. (Stanford), has held a variety of teaching, consulting, training, counseling and editorial positions. He has taught in psychology departments, design engineering and, for the past two decades, at the Institute of Transpersonal Psychology that he helped found. He has published textbooks, professional books, a self-help book, a 60's novel and a series of videos, Drugs: The Children Are Choosing, for National Public Television. His books have been published in 8 languages. He was featured in the 2010 National Geographic program, Explorer: Inside LSD and had three solo shows of his nature photography. He had his own consulting firm and sits on two nonprofit boards. He has lectured in the United States, Europe, Mexico, Japan and Australia. He has been involved in research into spiritual, therapeutic, problem-solving and sub-perceptual uses of psychedelics, and was the liaison between the Harvard group and the re- search group in Menlo Park. He has been called, "America's wisest and most respected authority on psychedelics and their use."

James Fadiman Psychedelics as Entheogens: How to Create and Guide Successful Sessions from MAPS: Psychedelic Science on Vimeo.

Biography of Presenter:

James Fadiman, B.A. (Harvard), M.A., Ph.D. (Stanford), has held a variety of teaching, consulting, training, counseling and editorial positions. He has taught in psychology departments, design engineering and, for the past two decades, at the Institute of Transpersonal Psychology that he helped found. He has published textbooks, professional books, a self-help book, a 60's novel and a series of videos, Drugs: The Children Are Choosing, for National Public Television. His books have been published in 8 languages. He was featured in the 2010 National Geographic program, Explorer: Inside LSD and had three solo shows of his nature photography. He had his own consulting firm and sits on two nonprofit boards. He has lectured in the United States, Europe, Mexico, Japan and Australia. He has been involved in research into spiritual, therapeutic, problem-solving and sub-perceptual uses of psychedelics, and was the liaison between the Harvard group and the re- search group in Menlo Park. He has been called, "America's wisest and most respected authority on psychedelics and their use."

James Fadiman Psychedelics as Entheogens: How to Create and Guide Successful Sessions from MAPS: Psychedelic Science on Vimeo.